

Helping Hands Committee Recipient Application

Please see the Helping Hands Recipient Guidelines for the services provided.

The Freethought Society (FS) will not ask the religion of a person in need of assistance. Helping Hands Committee members/volunteers will treat all charity cases without prejudice or bigotry. The religion or non-religion of an applicant will not be a consideration of offering needed assistance.

Recipients will be accepted on a volunteer availability basis. If volunteers are available, applications will be accepted. Applicants will be advised that services are available only if a core volunteer group can be established. There is no guarantee that a volunteer or volunteer core group can be located. Recipient applications are processed with enthusiasm and a desire to assist people who need help.
